Come Create With Us.

Over the past two years, more than 1,000 Vancouver residents have helped shape a bold vision for the future of our city. These vision statements—focused on climate, equity, transportation, housing, and more—will guide the next 20 years of growth and change. Now, we're inviting you to bring these ideas to life through collaborative art.

Join us for a hands-on collage, zine, and vision board workshop where we'll creatively respond to the City's vision statements using repurposed materials, provided by the City from past engagement efforts. This is an opportunity to reflect on what kind of community you want to live in, and use collage, zines, and mixed media to express your perspective.

Registration in advance is required in advance to attend. Please scan the qr code to register at our eventbrite page!
